

Reina Tello full response Meet the Candidates #8

We need to have support staff in place to find the why? We need to ensure the school has adequate resources & coordinated approach to support the students. Without an equitable distribution of resources, the students who need the most help will suffer the most.

My daughter struggled with absenteeism in our search to find an elementary school that met her needs. We enrolled and passed through two schools until we finally found a school that supported her emotionally so that academics could be accessed. My daughter went underdiagnosed for 6 years. I saw how other students fell through the cracks. We need to listen to the school sites, they have the best solutions
